

Bitwig Opens New Content Shop

Berlin, Germany | September 25, 2024

Bitwig is proud to launch a new content shop with two exclusive premium sound packages: Atmospheres and Soundscapes and Field Goes Musical. These packages were made in collaboration with professional sound designers, and they're offered in addition to the free sound packages included in the Bitwig Studio Upgrade Plans.

Two Premium Sound Packages

Atmospheres and Soundscapes

Every musical world needs an atmosphere. Breathe life into your tracks with this preset package of spacey arps, sound FX, deep drones, pads, and more. The team of specialized sound designers behind Atmospheres and Soundscapes coaxed rich sounds out of Sampler, The Grid, and Bitwig synths. The resulting 86 presets make an evocative starting point for your next ambient or downtempo track. They're also great additional layers for any composition, whether you're adding vibe to an intro or shaping breakdowns and transitions.

Field Goes Musical

Explore the musical potential of everyday sounds with this inventive preset collection. A large library of exclusive field recordings were transformed into leftfield percussion, melodious tones, ear-catching FX, and other track-ready components. Supplied as presets for various instruments and devices, these larger-than-life sounds are perfect for adding character to your productions.

The source samples are also included as clips to deepen your sound designer's stockpile. Get out there and have a field day.

Availability

The first collections in the shop are available for purchase now. Like future additions to the store, these come in different sizes and price points starting at 19 USD/EUR. They include a variety of content, from high-quality samples to clips, MIDI or Note FX, and presets for Bitwig devices. The first two premium sound packages are available to all Bitwig Studio tiers. Presets will open in player mode in Essentials and Producer. These two packages require Bitwig Studio 5.2.4 as their minimum version.
